

Global OGB Association

Terms and conditions of use.

All users need to abide by the terms and conditions of this site.

The Global OGB Association (GO) allows you to stay in touch with your school and other OGBs, Teachers and Homes friends. For further information about the Global OGB Association, please see the About Us page.

All use of the site is governed by the following GO terms and conditions of use of the website. In addition to those terms of use you are obliged to comply with the GO Privacy Policy.

1. No part of this website or the information available upon it (including, without limitation, other Users' email addresses) may be reproduced or stored in any other website or included in any public or private electronic retrieval system or service without GO's prior written permission.
2. Other than personally identifiable information, which is covered under our Privacy policy, any material you transmit or post to the website shall be considered non-confidential and non-proprietary. The GO shall have no obligations with respect to such material. The GO and its designees shall be free to copy, disclose, distribute, incorporate and otherwise use such material and all data, images, sounds, text and other things embodied therein for any and all commercial or non-commercial purposes.
3. You may not misuse the website (including, without limitation, by hacking).
4. Links to third party websites on the GO website are provided solely for your convenience. If you use these links, you leave our website. The GO has not reviewed all of these third-party websites and does not control and is not responsible for these websites or their content or availability. The GO therefore does not endorse or make any representations about them, or any material found there, or any results that may be obtained from using them. If you decide to access any of the third party websites linked to on the GO website, you do so entirely at your own risk.
5. Each registration is for a single user only. The GO does not permit you to share your username and password with any other person nor with multiple users on a network.
6. Responsibility for the security of any passwords issued rests with you.
7. You may not send or otherwise post unauthorised commercial information on the GO website.
8. You may not use the information provided on the GO website to engage in any type of marketing or commercial activity.
9. Some of the information on our website is in Portable Document Format (PDF). You will need Adobe Acrobat Reader to read PDF files. Adobe Acrobat Reader can be downloaded free of charge from the Adobe website. Later versions of this software provide a number of features that improve access for users.
10. The GO is committed to providing an accessible web presence that gives members of the public and members of the GO community access to alumni relations and fundraising information, and which gives Community members secure access to be able to view and update the data held on them in the GO Community forum database.

11. The GO reserves the right to remove any information or User accounts or block access to the GO website for an infringement of these terms of use.
12. Any changes we may make to our terms and conditions of use in the future will be posted on this page. You should check the website from time to time to review the then current legal notice, because it is binding on you. Certain provisions of this notice may be superseded by expressly designated legal notices or terms located on particular pages of this website.
